International Affairs Curriculum

A student enrolled in the joint-degree program must complete 24 credit hours of approved course work from the International Affairs program. All students in the master's program are required to take the following:

- INR5938 Seminar in International Affairs (3 cr.)
- INR5935 International Affairs Colloquium (1 cr.)
- INR5012 Problems of Globalism (3 cr.)

Students are required to concentrate their International Affairs coursework by completing 9 credits in one of the approved participating departments (Anthropology, Modern Languages, Sociology, Economics, Philosophy, Urban and Regional Planning, Political Science, Public Administration, History, or Religion).

Students must take coursework from at least 3 participating departments and at least 6 credit hours of coursework that focus on the developing or post-communist world. A written master's comprehensive examination or an oral master's thesis defense will also be required.

All students must satisfy a foreign language requirement for the master's program. Proficiency in a foreign language must be demonstrated in one of the 4 methods as outlined by the graduate handbook. More information is available online at www.coss.fsu.edu/inapro/.

Conferring of Degrees

Students in joint-degree programs receive both degrees concurrently. Students may not be certified as a graduate without having completed the graduation requirements in both the College of Law and the Graduate Program in International Affairs. This includes the Law upper-level writing requirement, the skills training requirement, and the pro bono requirement.

Residence Requirement

Unless otherwise approved by both advisors and the College of Law Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, students enrolled in joint-degree programs must earn a minimum of seven semesters of residence credit. Based on the College of Law formula for determining residency, one semester of residency credit is earned for every 12 credit hours of courses taken in the College of Law and the College of Social Sciences and Public Policy.
