ARTICLE I. NAME AND LOCATION

The name of this organization shall be the Journal of Land Use & Environmental Law (hereinafter, the Journal). The Journal shall be located at, and affiliated with, the Florida State University College of Law at Tallahassee, Florida.

ARTICLE II. ORGANIZATION

The Journal shall be composed of the Editorial Board, the Staff Members, the Faculty Advisor(s), and the Advisory Board.

ARTICLE III. ORGANIZATIONAL PURPOSE

The Journal is formed exclusively for literary and educational purposes within the meaning of section 301(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The Journal shall not carry on any activities not permitted to be carried on by an organization exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code or engage in any activities or exercise any powers that are not in furtherance of the purpose of the Journal.

ARTICLE IV. PUBLICATION CHARACTER & MISSION STATEMENT

A. Publication Character

The Journal shall publish, at least biannually, a scholarly legal publication intended to serve policymakers, legislators, and the legal and academic communities.

B. Mission Statement

1. The abbreviated mission statement shall be placed on all of the Journal's correspondence. The abbreviated mission statement is as follows: Advancing contemporary jurisprudence of the land, air, and waters.
2. The full mission statement is as follows:

To provide a forum for advancing contemporary jurisprudence of the land, air, and waters, we must:

- Maintain the highest standards of analysis, accuracy, and timeliness in publishing the Journal;
- Encourage leading legal educators and practitioners to publish their articles in the Journal;
- Distinguish the College of Law as a leading institution, known for its support of scholarship and academic pursuit in the fields of environmental and land use law;
- Attract the premier legal scholars interested in environmental and land use issues by encouraging independent legal thought, offering positions of responsibility and opportunities for publication, and maintaining a tradition of service to our college;
- Inform our future profession about the compelling environmental and land use issues by providing a forum for legal educators, practitioners, and student scholars;
- Offer our future profession a broad, diverse spectrum of articles balanced between the theoretical and the practical;
- Promote esprit de corps among our membership and the College of Law at large; and Safeguard our institutional memory and tradition so that those who follow will benefit from our experience.

ARTICLE V. PUBLISHING SPECIFICATIONS

A. Non-Student Pieces

A piece is “publishable” when it meets those standards of quality, timelines, and novelty essential for publication in the Journal as determined by the Editor-in-Chief, with the advice of the Executive Board. Actual selection for publication is left to the Editor-in-Chief, with the advice of the Executive Board.

B. Student Pieces

1. A student piece is “publishable” for purposes of actual publication when it meets those standards essential for actual publication in the Journal as set out in Article V, Section A of these Articles. A student piece is publishable for purposes of meeting the Journal writing requirement when it meets the standards of quality essential for publication; however, the elements of timelines and novelty are relaxed in determining “publishability” for purposes of the writing requirement.
2. The Journal may at its discretion publish a piece written by a student of any other college of law or graduate school subject to the established editorial process. Student pieces from students at the Florida State College of Law shall take priority over student pieces from other colleges of law or graduate schools.
3. Student pieces written by Journal staff shall take precedence over pieces written by students from outside the Journal staff, so long as both pieces are of approximately the same quality or the staff piece is of superior quality. This determination will be made by the Editor-in-Chief with the advice of the Executive Board.

ARTICLE VI. DISSOLUTION

Upon the dissolution of the Journal, the Executive Board and Faculty Advisor(s) shall, after paying or making provision for all the liabilities of the Journal, dispose of all the assets of the Journal exclusively to the Florida State University Foundation, a 501 (c)(3) exempt organization. Any such assets not so disposed of shall be disposed of by the appropriate court having jurisdiction as said court shall determine.

ARTICLE VII. EXECUTIVE BOARD

A. Membership

The Executive Board shall be composed of the Editor-in-Chief, two (2) Executive Editors, the Senior Articles Editor, the Associate Editor, and the Administrative Editor. The Editor-in-Chief shall attempt to assign the Executive Editors categories of articles consistent with their interests and the needs of the Journal. For example, the editors could be divided between land use and environmental law or between national and Florida law.

B. Powers and Duties

1. The Executive Board shall make policy decisions, advise the Editor-in-Chief, and determine the number of Articles and Notes Editors for each issue.
2. The outgoing Executive Board shall advise the incoming Executive Board regarding the appointment of Article and Notes Editors.
3. All Executive Board Editors must remain in Tallahassee during the fall and spring semesters. During the Summer Term, the Editor-in-Chief must be available to perform the duties of office.
4. Executive Board Editors may be employed during the school year so long as they are able to carry out their Journal duties fully. If outside employment interferes with any Journal member fulfilling the requirements of any office, the removal provisions of Article VII, Section H shall apply.

C. Eligibility

To be eligible for the positions of Editor-in-Chief or Executive Editor, a member must have (1) served as a Senior Articles Editor, Administrative Editor, or Associate Editor; or (2) served at least one (1) semester as an Articles and Notes Editor. To be eligible for the position of Senior Articles Editor, it is preferred that candidates have served as an Article Selection Editor for at least one (1) semester. Any member is eligible for the positions of Associate Editor or Administrative Editor. Any member is eligible for the positions of Associate Editor or Administrative Editor. This section (C) may be waived by the Editor-in-Chief if failure to do so would result in a vacancy on the Executive Board.

D. Term of Office

1. All Executive Board Editors shall serve a term of one (1) year, beginning in May and ending the following April, or until the final issue of the current volume is completed, whichever is longer. This section (D) may be waived by the Editor-in-Chief if failure to do so would result in a vacancy on the Executive Board.

2. All members serving in any capacity on the Executive Board (including but not limited to Editor-in-Chief, Executive Editor(s), Administrative Editor, Associate Editor, or Senior Articles and Notes Editor) may take up to two (2) S/U class credits during each semester in which they serve. ONLY Executive Board members and Articles and Notes Editors are eligible for Journal class credit. General members are ineligible to take class credit.

E. Executive Board Pay

Pursuant to the College of Law providing the funding, all Executive Board members shall receive stipends for their services during the fall and spring semesters as follows:

1. The Editor-in-Chief shall receive 30% of the allocated funds.
2. The Executive Editors shall receive 20% each of the allocated funds.
3. The Senior Articles Editor, Associate Editor and the Administrative Editor shall receive 10% each of the allocated funds.

F. Description of the Executive Board Positions

1. Editor-in-Chief. The Editor-in-Chief shall
 - a. be the chief executive and administrative officer of the Journal;
 - b. coordinate all Journal activities;
 - c. have ultimate responsibility for the substantive, technical, and stylistic content of each issue;
 - d. have ultimate authority over the running of the Journal operations, including but not limited to final right of determination as to what material shall be published.
 - e. act as liaison with the printer at all stages of production;
 - f. work with the Executive Editors to set deadlines for each publication stage.

If the Editor in Chief is unavailable to complete the duties of the position for a period of more than 10 days, any pending duties of a non-editorial nature may be handled by the Administrative Editor, and an Executive Editor shall be named to handle editorial duties.

2. Executive Editors. The Executive Editors shall
 - a. have responsibility for and authority over all technical, substantive, and stylistic aspects of each piece assigned to them;
 - b. have responsibility for management of the mechanical processes of publishing the Journal, subject to the authority of the Editor in Chief, and the advice of the Executive Board;
 - c. assist the Editor in Chief in setting deadlines for each stage of publication;

- d. make technical assignments to members and perform a complete technical edit of each piece assigned to them at all appropriate stages;
- e. shall assume such further duties and responsibilities as the Editor in Chief shall designate;
- f. and, when appointed or as elected by the other members of the Executive Board, assume the duties of the Editor in Chief during any vacancy in that position.

When possible, the duties of the Executive Editors shall be tailored to their personal interests, skills, and backgrounds.

3. Senior Articles Editor. The Senior Articles Editor shall
 - a. have responsibility for and authority over the coordination of the legal research activities of the Journal, subject to the authority of the Editor-in-Chief, and the advice of the Executive Board and Faculty Advisor(s);
 - b. be responsible for the operations of the manuscript review committee, including the solicitation of new manuscripts by academic and professional authors;
 - c. read and evaluate pieces submitted for possible publication and the completion of the Journal writing requirement;
 - d. be responsible for the development of the website reviews;
 - e. maintain a centralized system for recording the subject matter selected for all pieces, as well as a set of abstracts for all pieces published by the Journal;
 - f. maintain a file of current legal topics and decisions suitable for Notes or Comments through the active solicitation of faculty suggestions and communication with the Advisory Board;
 - g. supervise the operation of the Journal Library;
 - h. organize and supervise the Manuscript Review Committee;
 - i. be responsible for writing or soliciting someone to write the annual Recent Developments piece;
 - j. and assume such further duties and responsibilities as designated by the Editor-in-Chief.

4. Administrative Editor. The Administrative Editor shall
 - a. be responsible for the daily business operations of the Journal and shall serve as Treasurer of the organization;
 - b. work with the Office Manager and other College staff to ensure that the financial and business matters of the Journal are well run;
 - c. if necessary, assist the Office Manager in soliciting subscriptions, contributions, and advertising;
 - d. be responsible for alumni association matters;
 - e. be responsible for updating the web page and Facebook page;
 - f. work with the Editor in Chief in soliciting books and reviews for books;
 - g. be responsible for the operations of the social/morale committee and organize all social events;
 - h. and assume such further duties and responsibilities as designated by the Editor in Chief.

5. Associate Editor. The Associate Editor shall
 - a. organize and supervise the Write-On Competition Committee and new member training;
 - b. collaborate with Law Review and the Journal of Transnational Law and Policy in developing the write-on prompt if the journals are participating in a joint write-on competition
 - c. solicit and invite eligible potential new members
 - d. maintain current member roster with contact information of all members and ensure that

- new members are added to Blackboard
- e. conduct, coordinate and be responsible for all training and monitor successful completion of said training;
- f. administer the Blue Book and subciting exercises to candidates;
- g. if necessary, organize and manage the Distinguished Lecture Series;
- h. serve as the Secretary to the Journal;
- i. and assume such further duties and responsibilities as designated by the Editor-in-Chief.

G. Selection

Elections for Executive Board membership

- a. shall be held as soon as is practical after the new members are admitted in the spring Semester;
- b. shall be by secret ballot;
- c. and shall require a simple majority of the members present for election of a candidate. Elections may be held by electronic voting so long as the voting remains anonymous, each member is only permitted to vote once, and a record of the tally of votes can be provided.

In the event that more than two candidates compete for a single position and no candidate receives a simple majority in the first round of voting, the two candidates receiving the most votes in the first round shall compete in a run-off election. Each separate election for a position shall be preceded by broad questioning of the candidates by the Journal membership electorate. The Editor-in-Chief shall moderate member discussion on the candidates' behalf prior to casting votes. Notice of the election shall be posted in a prominent place at least three weeks before the election. Nominations will be accepted for a position until the Editor-in-Chief closes nominations immediately prior to that position being voted on by the Journal membership. Members of the outgoing executive board not running for the contested position shall count votes and supervise the election.

H. Removal

1. Grounds. An Executive Board Editor shall be subject to removal from office for refusing to perform the responsibilities of that office, for significant lack of diligence in performing said responsibilities, for substantial inability reasonably to perform same, or for the good cause which at least three (3) or more Editorial Board members or at least one-third (1/3) of the Journal membership may reasonably consider grounds for removal.
2. Procedure. The Editor-in-Chief shall call a meeting of the Journal membership upon the written petition of three (3) or more Editorial Board members or at least one-third (1/3) of the Journal membership. No meeting regarding removal of an Executive Board member may be held unless the respondent-editor has had at least one week's actual notice of said meeting and of the grounds for removal. The Executive Board shall announce individual grounds for removal at the meeting. The respondent-editor shall have an opportunity to be heard. Removal shall be had only upon a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Journal membership present, the respondent-editor not voting.

I. Vacancies

When a vacancy occurs on the Executive Board, the Editor-in-Chief shall appoint someone from the full membership, with the advice of the Executive Board.

ARTICLE VIII. EDITORIAL BOARD

A. Membership

1. The Editorial Board shall be composed of the members of the Executive Board, the Articles and Notes Editors, and the Articles Selection Editors.

2. The number of Articles and Notes (A&N) Editors shall be based on the number of full length pieces anticipated for publication in the First issue of the new volume of the Journal. The number of A&N Editors shall be determined by the Editor-in-Chief with the advice of the Executive Board.
3. The number of Articles Selection Editors shall be based on the number of members on the Articles Review Committee. Each Articles Selection Editor shall manage a small team of Articles Review Committee members, the size of which team shall be determined by the Editor-in-Chief. The number of Articles Selection Editors shall be determined by the Editor-in-Chief with the advice of the Executive Board.

B. Powers and Duties

The Editorial Board shall be responsible for the production of the publication, and shall assume such further duties and responsibilities as the Editor-in-Chief shall designate.

C. Eligibility

To be eligible for Editorial Board membership a staff member must have fulfilled all requirements of the new member training program, and be able to serve the whole term of office prescribed for the office sought.

D. Term of Office

1. All A&N and Articles Selection Editors shall serve on the Editorial Board for one (1) issue of the Journal. Past A&N or Articles Selection Editors may request to be considered for an additional issue.
2. All Articles and Notes Editors serving on the Editorial Board may take up to two (2) S/U class credits during the semester(s) in which they serve. ONLY Articles and Notes Editors and Executive Board members are eligible for Journal class credit. General members, including Article Selection Editors, are ineligible for class credit.

E. Description of Articles & Notes Editor Position

The A&N Editors shall perform and be responsible for complete substantive, technical, and stylistic editing of each piece assigned to them for publication in the Journal, including professionally written pieces, student written pieces concerning areas of the law, and pieces concerning specific court decisions; and shall assume such further duties and responsibilities as the Editor-in-Chief shall designate.

F. Description of Articles Selection Editor Position

The Articles Selection Editors shall be responsible for: (a) distributing articles received from the Senior Articles Editor to his or her respective Article Review Committee (“Committee”), (b) ensuring that his or her Committee reviews the articles in a timely manner, (c) when necessary, performing second-reads and forwarding articles to the Senior Articles Editor for further review, and (d) writing and sending, either by standard mail or e-mail, letters to authors whose articles were not chosen for publication. The Articles Selection Editors shall have broad discretion in managing their Committee, including but not limited to the discretion to distribute articles in a manner they deem most efficient. The Articles Selection Editors shall assume further duties and responsibilities as the Editor-in-Chief or Senior Articles Editor shall designate from time to time.

G. Selection

1. After the Executive Board is elected, the Editor in Chief (Elect) shall begin accepting applications for Editorial Board positions. The application period for A&N positions shall begin at a time deemed appropriate by the Editor in Chief given the particular timeline for the issue, and no later than four weeks prior to the start of the semester. The application period shall remain open for no less than ten (10) days. Applicants shall be interviewed prior to appointment if feasible.
2. A&N Editors shall be selected by the Editor in Chief under whom they will serve, with the advice of the Executive Board as needed. If many qualified applicants apply for an A&N position, the Executive Board may vote and those applicants who receive a 2/3 vote of the Executive Board will be selected.
3. The Editor in Chief shall consult with the Executive Editors in deciding who to select for the available A&N Editor positions.
4. Applicants who have successfully completed their writing requirement shall be given priority for Editorial Board positions over applicants who have not completed this requirement.
5. New A&N Editors may be appointed by the incoming Executive Board prior to the summer term if articles for the upcoming issue have been selected and are ready to be edited.
6. The application period for Articles Selection Editors (ASE) shall be at the discretion of the Senior Articles Editor, with the approval or direction of the Editor in Chief, but shall begin no later than three (3) weeks after the start of the semester and shall remain open for at least ten (10) days. The ASE shall be nominated by the Senior Articles Editor under whom they will serve, and must be approved by the Editor in Chief.
7. Articles Selection Editors shall be waived from the subciting requirement for the semester which they serve, if practicable, at the discretion of the Editor-in-Chief.

H. Removal

1. Grounds. An Articles and Notes Editor shall be subject to removal from office for failing to perform the editorial responsibilities of that office in a timely fashion, for significant lack of diligence in performing said responsibilities, for substantial inability reasonably to perform same, or for the good cause which at least two (2) or more Executive Board members or at least one-third (1/3) of the Journal membership may reasonably consider grounds for removal.
2. Procedure. The Editor-in-Chief shall call a meeting of the Executive Board upon the written petition of two (2) or more Executive Board members or at least one-third (1/3) of the Journal membership. No meeting regarding removal of an editor may be held unless the respondent-editor has had at least one week's actual notice of said meeting and of the grounds for removal. The Executive Board shall announce individual -rounds for removal at the meeting. The respondent-editor shall have an opportunity to be heard, and to confront any evidence offered. Removal shall be had only upon a three-fourths (3/4) vote of the Executive Board.

I. Vacancies

When a vacancy occurs on the Editorial Board, the Editor-in-Chief shall fill the position, with the advice of the Executive Board.

ARTICLE IX. COMMITTEES

The following are standing committees under the direct supervision of the designated chair, who is a member of the Executive Board, and with the ultimate and immediate responsibility to the Editor-in-Chief:

1. Manuscript Review Committee: The Manuscript Review Committee shall be responsible for systematically evaluating the publishability of papers submitted to the Journal for publication, including all student papers submitted by staff members to fulfill the Journal writing requirement. The ultimate responsibility of the Manuscript Review Committee is to provide the Editor-in-Chief with a reasoned recommendation as to whether a piece should be published. The term of commitment to this committee is one semester. The members will consist of the new invitees and any other members who wish to serve, provided all other committee positions are reasonably filled. The Editor-in-Chief shall have the discretion to assign a new member to a different committee in lieu of the Manuscript Review Committee. The Senior Articles Editor shall chair this committee.
2. Write-On Competition Committee: The Associate Editor shall chair this committee. There shall be one Write-on Competition Committee for each write-on competition that is held. If necessary, the Write-On Competition Committee shall research, and select the topics for, and prepare the writing competition. The Write-on Competition Committee shall determine the judging procedure and criteria for selection, notify the student body of such before the Write-On competition, and administer the Write-On competition annually, in accordance with guidelines approved by the Executive Board. The Write-on Competition Committee chair should consult with the Committee chairs of Florida State University Law Review and the Journal of Transnational Law & Policy during their semester of service to determine the guidelines for the write-on competition and notify the student body of such before the Write-on Competition. All Write-on Competition Committee members shall be responsible for evaluating entries in the competition during their semester of service. The selection of individuals to whom candidacy may be extended shall be decided by the members of the current write-on committee. It shall be the goal of this committee to choose and notify new invitees prior to the beginning of the upcoming semester. Members shall also assist in accounting for completion of training assignments and shall assist with such other duties and responsibilities, relating to training, as designated by the Associate Editor.
3. Any other committees may be established as necessary by the Editor-in-Chief, with the advice of the Editorial Board.

ARTICLE X. STAFF

A. Membership

The staff shall consist of those students who are selected in accordance with Article X, Section D, and who complete the new-member training program requirements to the satisfaction of the Executive Board.

B. Duties and Responsibilities

1. Each Staff Member shall be responsible for completing all assignments thoughtfully, accurately, thoroughly, and promptly; shall attend all announced staff meetings, and the Distinguished Lecturer series, and other mandatory events the Editor in Chief may establish.

2. Each candidate for membership must have a 77 average or higher to be considered for membership on the Journal as either a grade-on or a write-on candidate. All Journal members must maintain a cumulative GPA of 77. If a member's GPA drops below 77, the member shall be given one semester to bring the GPA back up to a 77. If the member's cumulative GPA is below a 77 for two (2) consecutive semesters, the member shall be removed from the Journal.
3. All provisions, obligations, and responsibilities imposed upon staff members by these Articles will be equally binding on all staff members regardless of method of selection for membership.
4. Members who are continuing students, but will not be present at the College of Law for either a fall or spring semester must notify the Editor-in-Chief in writing no later than the Friday of the first full week of the semester that the student will be unavailable to the Journal

C. Eligibility

Any student of the College of Law shall be eligible to be considered for membership on the Journal staff who will be a law student and Journal member for at least three full semesters, excluding the Summer Term, following the granting of Journal candidacy membership. Additionally, grade requirements detailed in section B.3 must be met.

D. Selection of Candidates for Membership

Journal membership is available to eligible law students in either of the following THREE (3) ways:

1. Grade-on. First-year students may obtain membership based on the grade received in Legal Research and Writing. Each semester the Journal shall extend an offer of membership to the persons in each legal research class (when an instructor teaches more than one section of legal writing but uses a single curve for all sections, "class" refers to all sections subjected to the same curve) who have received the three (3) highest numerical grades. No offer may be extended, however, to any person with a numerical grade which would translate into a letter grade less than A. In addition, an offer of membership shall be extended to the person receiving the highest two (2) numerical grades in Environmental Law, Land Use Regulation, Administrative Law, Natural Resources Law, Water Law, Ocean and Coastal Law, Energy Law, Climate Change, or Oil and Gas Law, providing that such person has at least two (2) semesters remaining prior to graduation.
2. Writing Competition. First-year students may be chosen through an annual Summer Write-On Competition covering a topic designated by the Write-on Committee. Second year students may be chosen through an annual Winter Write-On Competition covering topics designated by the Write-On Committee. Each year the Executive Board will decide whether or not the Winter Write-On is to be open to First Year Students, and should consult with the Journal of Transnational Law and Policy and Law Review to determine what course of action those journals are planning to take.
3. Paper Submission. Any second-year law student may become a member by submitting an article on a land use or environmental law topic to the Manuscript Review Committee before the spring Term of the second year. The Manuscript Review Committee may recommend articles for acceptance to the Editor-in-Chief, who may then grant membership with the advice of the Executive Board. Articles must meet the requirements of Article V, and each candidate must complete the new-member training program. Once a member, the student shall be subject to staff member duties and responsibilities as set forth in these Articles of Association.

4. Transfer Students. Transfer students shall be offered membership on a showing that: a) the student participated in a first year legal research and writing course at his or her previous institution which reasonably assesses writing and research skills and is substantially equivalent to the Legal Research and Writing course offered at Florida State College of Law; b) the student received the highest or second highest grade in the course and that grade is the equivalent of an A; and c) the student can provide sufficient documentation of the above. “Transfer students” may include FSU LLM students that have transferred to the FSU JD program. If the transfer student earned the highest grade in his or her legal research and writing equivalent and that grade was lower than an A, the Executive Board may vote on whether or not to extend membership to this student. Transfer students also must have a 77 GPA (or a 2.77 or C+) and have at least three (3) semesters remaining prior to graduation. Upon a 2/3 vote of the Executive Board, membership may be extended to transfer students on a showing that: 1) the student was offered membership in a law review or journal at his or her previous institution, and b) can provide sufficient documentation of the requirements for that membership and the offer from that law review or journal.
5. Other Criteria. It shall be duly noted that no hazing or discrimination will be used as a condition of membership in this organization. In addition, this organization agrees to adhere to the University non-discrimination statement: No university student may be denied membership on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, veterans’ or marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any other protected group status.
6. Other Invitations. The Executive Board may, by unanimity and with the consent of the faculty advisor, extend an invitation to exceptionally qualified students who do not otherwise fall within the scope of Articles X. D. 1-4. Such students must have at least two semesters of law school remaining and shall be subject to all other membership requirements. This provision shall be used rarely and only under circumstances where the Executive Board has determined the current number of staff members to be inadequate to meet the needs of the Journal.

E. Term of Membership

Staff Members shall serve on the Journal for the remainder of their law school careers.

F. Grievance, Removal, and Appeals Procedure

1. Intent: The Journal of Land Use and Environmental Law maintains high standards as a top-quality publication at the FSU College of Law. To continue to achieve these standards, the Journal requires each member to adhere to a certain standard of active participation and work product quality. General membership requirements include: attendance at all mandatory meetings, attendance at all mandatory speakers-lecturers, involvement in one committee group per year, and high quality work in all subciting assignments (approx. 2-3 per year). This grievance procedure standardizes actions taken when members fall below this minimal level of work quality and participation.
2. Initial Violation: Depending on the severity of the violation, the Editor in Chief shall have discretion to issue an appropriate reprimand. Such actions might include: adding an additional subciting assignment, adding an additional committee membership requirement, or other increased Journal participation on a need basis, but may not include removal from membership.

3. Second or Recurrent Pattern of Violations: The member shall come before the Executive Board with at least a 72 hour notice given to the member that a disciplinary hearing is to take place. If the Board determines that a physical meeting is impracticable then the Board may, in its discretion, allow the member to instead submit a written statement of explanation, to be reviewed by the Board prior to a vote. The Board shall make a decision after hearing the member's case as to whether the member may continue his or her membership with the Journal. If removal is recommended by the Board it shall require either a two-thirds majority vote of the Board, or a vote from the Editor-in-Chief, the Executive Board Editor in charge of supervising the member in the duty they have neglected, and the Associate Editor.

If removal is not recommended then the Board will institute an appropriate reprimand, taking into account the severity of both the first and second violations.

4. Third Violation: After coming before the Executive Board, if the member violates minimum standards again, the member is immediately dismissed if no valid excuse is presented. A disciplinary hearing prior to a vote is not required.

 Examples of a member's neglect of duty include: missed unexcused mandatory meeting(s) or lecturer(s); inadequate work product in subciting assignment(s); or failure to timely or thoroughly complete an assigned subciting assignment; failure to satisfactorily complete committee assignments; failure to timely respond to any request or direction given to a member by an Executive Board Member or any A&N or ASE; or failing to reasonably perform any other assignment or obligation as prescribed by the Executive Board or these bylaws.

5. Appeals Process. Any member whose membership is revoked shall have five (5) calendar days to appeal. The appeal must be submitted in writing to the Editor-in-Chief and the Executive Board and must include all relevant information. The Executive Board shall then render its recommendation to the Editor-in-Chief for a final ruling. In the event that the Editor-in-Chief is the party seeking an appeal, the Executive Board shall issue a final ruling by a two-thirds vote.

G. Resignation

1. Resignation must be submitted in a formal writing to the Editor in Chief. Email may be used to alert the Editor in Chief to the resignation, but the resigning member must still submit a signed, formal resignation letter to the Editor in Chief.
2. The resignation letter must acknowledge that said resignation is irrevocable and that the member may no longer claim to be a member on their resume or otherwise.
3. Members who submit a resignation within seven (7) days prior to or after receiving their subciting assignment, must complete the assignment for ONLY that Round before they will be permitted to resign, unless otherwise arranged with the Editor in Chief. Failure to complete the assignment prior to resignation will be considered an Honor Code Violation and both the Faculty Advisor of the Journal as well as the supervising Dean will be notified of such violation.

Members who resign or are removed from the Journal will not be included on the Journal's masthead, will not be recognized as members at the Graduation ceremony, and may not claim themselves to be members on their resume or otherwise.

ARTICLE XI. FACULTY ADVISOR(S)

One or more Faculty Advisor(s) shall be appointed by the Editor-in-Chief and serve in an advisory role. One advisor shall be appointed Lead Faculty Advisor and be responsible for duties assigned in these Articles.

ARTICLE XII. ELIGIBILITY TO VOTE

Any member of the Journal who is in good standing shall be eligible to cast a vote on any matter brought to a vote at meetings of the Journal membership. No member may vote by proxy.

ARTICLE XIII. MEETINGS

A. The entire Journal membership shall be called together to meet at least once each semester at a time determined by the Editor-in-Chief. Additional meetings may be called by the Editor-in-Chief or upon request of one-third (1/3) of the Journal membership or of one-third (1/3) of the Editorial Board.

B. All meetings of the Editorial Board and of all standing committees shall be open to every member of the Journal. Notification of each such meeting shall be given to all Journal members at least three (3) days prior to the meeting, except in emergency situations.

ARTICLE XIV. AMENDMENTS

A. Posting

Any proposed amendment to these Articles of Association shall be made available to all Journal members at least one (1) week prior to being voted upon.

B. Presentation

Any amendment posted as required above shall be presented at the next regularly-scheduled meeting or the next special meeting of the Journal.

C. Adoption

Amendments to these Articles of Association shall become effective immediately upon their approval or at a time as approved by the Journal membership. Amendments may only be voted on at the Journal's general meetings or by electronic voting if such amendment can not possibly wait until the general meeting, provided that the voting remains anonymous, each member is only permitted to vote once, and a record of the tally of votes can be provided. Amendments are approved by a majority of the Executive Board and 2/3 of the Journal membership present at the general meeting.

The Executive Board shall have the discretion to make non-material changes to these Articles of Association with the approval of the Executive Board, without having to complete the formal Journal voting process. Examples of non-material changes include updating website links, correcting misspelling or grammatical errors within the bylaws.

D. Maintaining the Articles of Association

The Journal office manager will be responsible for modifying and maintaining the official version of this document.

ARTICLE XV. CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP

Certificates of membership on the Journal shall be issued only upon certification by the designation of the Dean of the College of Law that the member has met graduation requirements. Certificates shall be issued only if the Editor-in-Chief determines that the member has not been removed as provided in these Articles of Association from membership on the Journal. The Editor-in-Chief shall certify that these criteria are met and issue each certificate.

ARTICLE XVI. ADVISORY BOARD

A. Name, Purpose and Design

1. The official name of the Board shall be the Advisory Board to the Journal of Land Use & Environmental Law (hereinafter, the Advisory Board).
2. The Advisory Board is created and established to actively advise and guide the Journal so the Journal will be a useful, applicable, meaningful law review which shall be highly-esteemed, widely-recognized, and in great demand by the Florida and national legal, academic, judicial, and legislative communities.
3. The Advisory Board structure is designed to facilitate interaction of the various actors, disciplines, perspectives, matters, and relationships involved in the legal process regarding land use and environmental law toward the end of fulfilling the Advisory Board's purpose as stated immediately above.

B. Composition and Selection

The Advisory Board shall comprise an unfixed number of positions selected by the following methods:

1. The Advisory Board shall include five (5) members, each of whom shall be an attorney from within one of the entities below and selected in active consultation with appropriate control persons within each of the following entities:
 - a. The Florida Department of Environmental Protection.
 - b. The Florida Department of Community Affairs.
 - c. The Environmental and Land Use Section of the Florida Bar.
 - d. The Division of Administrative Hearings.
 - e. The Florida Chapter of the Sierra Club.
2. The Advisory Board shall include seven (7) members, severally appointed from among, the below available categories:
 - a. Law faculty members teaching environmental or land use at other law schools in Florida.
 - b. Attorneys representing large business interests.
 - c. Attorneys practicing environmental or land use law at the local government level.
 - d. The Florida Judiciary.
 - e. Former members of the Journal editorial board.
 - f. Professors of economics at any university in Florida.
 - g. Professors of planning at any university in Florida.
 - h. Professors of biology at any university in Florida.
 - i. Professors of engineering, at any university in Florida.
3. Each Faculty Advisor shall be a standing member of the Advisory Board as long as that person continues to serve as an advisor to the Journal.

C. Appointments

Appointments to the Advisory Board under this section shall require the approval of the Editor-in-Chief in agreement with the Lead Faculty Advisor and upon the advice of the continuing Advisory Board members. Members may be reappointed as often as the Editorial Board desires and such is to be encouraged. Each separate appointment for an Advisory Board position shall be preceded by broad discussion including the following considerations:

1. The general contribution the individual is likely to make to the Journal and its future.
2. The scholarly attributes of the individual in the areas of environmental and land use law.
3. The likelihood of the individual's detached objectivity regarding the subject matter.

4. The time the individual has available to give the Journal.
5. The individual's particular talents as they relate to the duties and purpose of the Advisory Board.

D. Duties and Responsibilities

1. The Advisory Board and its members shall actively identify and solicit qualified and prestigious writers of state or national standing to write definitive articles for publication in the Journal. At least one such article shall be solicited for each issue. The topic and author shall receive approval of the proper authority within the Journal Editorial Board prior to actual solicitation.
2. Each Advisory Board member shall be responsible for identifying and communicating to the Editorial Board:
 - a. Issues in land use and environmental law which merit scholarly treatment.
 - b. Areas of the law which ought to be developed and current or upcoming developments in the law which should be addressed.
 - c. Topics and matters deserving of practical treatment which would be useful to practitioners.
3. Each Advisory Board member shall read and substantively and stylistically criticize articles when requested to do so by the Editor-in-Chief.
4. Each Advisory Board member shall actively seek out methods and sources of funding and secure such funding for the Journal; shall recommend other methods and sources of funding and sources of material support to the Editor-in-Chief; and shall recommend methods of expanding the Journal's list of subscribers.
5. The Advisory Board and its individual members shall advise the Journal on any matters the Advisory Board sees fit.

E. Advisory Board Chair

The Advisory Board shall elect a Chair from among its appointed members.

1. Duties and Responsibilities. The Chair shall have the affirmative duty to remain in constant contact with the Journal and the Advisory Board members; shall call meetings of the Advisory Board; shall preside at meetings of the Advisory Board; shall have plenary authority over all activities and actions necessary for effectuating the fulfillment of the Advisory Board's mission; shall coordinate all Advisory Board activities; and shall be the chief executive and administrative officer of the Advisory Board.
2. Eligibility. To be eligible to be Chair, an Advisory Board member must have been a member of the Advisory Board for at least six (6) months prior to assuming office and must be located in Tallahassee.
3. Term of Office. The Chair shall serve in that capacity for a period of two years, running from November 1st to November 1st. The Chair may be reelected if the Advisory Board so desires. The Chair shall be elected on the May 1st preceding the November 1st on which the then-seated Chair steps down.
4. Selection Considerations. In electing the Chair, the Advisory Board shall consider primarily the following three factors: The time the individual has available for the Journal and Advisory Board; the energy the individual will likely inject into the duties of the Chair; and the individual's organizational and motivational skills. Election of the Chair shall be preceded by broad questioning of the candidates by the Advisory Board members.
5. Removal. Removal of a Chair shall be only on the same grounds and with the same procedure as provided for the Advisory Board in general, except that the vote shall be solely within the Advisory Board.

F. Committees

1. The following are standing committees under the direct supervision of their designated chair and with ultimate, immediate responsibility in the Advisory Board Chair:
 - a. Articles Review Committee. To provide the peer review necessary (because of tenure publishing specifications) to encourage and attract the Ph.D. articles published in the Journal. No such article shall be published without simple majority approval by the Committee.
 - b. Funding and Resource Search Committee. To assume the sustenance and expansion of the Journal, this committee shall actively seek out methods and sources of funding and sources of material support and shall secure such for the Journal.
2. Other Committees may be established by the Chair, with the advice of the Advisory Board, and shall be chaired by an Advisory Board member as assigned by the Chair.

G. Term of Office

1. All appointed Advisory Board members shall serve on the Advisory Board for three years, running from November 1st through November 1st. One-third (1/3) of the appointed members of the Advisory Board shall change each year.
2. To implement these terms of office, one-third (1/3) of the charter members shall be identified as serving for one (1) year, and one-third (1/3) shall be identified as serving for two (2) years.
3. Each Faculty Advisor shall be a standing member of the Advisory Board as long as that person continues to serve as an advisor to the Journal.

H. Meetings

1. The Advisory Board shall meet collectively twice a year at a place of its choosing upon notification of all Advisory Board members.
2. The Editor-in-Chief, the Executive Editors, and the Senior Articles Editor shall attend at least one meeting of the Advisory Board each year.

I. Internal Operations

The Advisory Board shall adopt and continually develop its own internal operating procedures consistent with the Journal's Articles of Association.

J. Conduct of Business

It shall not be necessary for the Advisory Board to sit collectively to conduct all business. The Advisory Board may conduct business and communication in the manner it deems appropriate.

K. Vacancies

Vacancies on the Advisory Board shall be filled for the remainder of the vacator's term in accordance with all substantive and procedural requirements set forth for in appropriate sections regarding Appointments and composition and selection of the Advisory Board.

L. Removal

1. Grounds. An advisor shall be removed from the Advisory Board for refusing to perform the advisory duties and responsibilities, as outlined in Section D of this Article, for significant lack of diligence in performing said responsibilities, for substantial inability reasonably to perform same, or the like as the Editorial Board may fairly consider grounds for removal.
2. Procedure. The Editor-in-Chief shall call a meeting of the Editorial Board upon the written petition of one-third (1/3) or more of the Editorial Board or Advisory Board members. The Editorial Board or Advisory Board shall announce individual grounds for removal at the meeting. The respondent-advisor shall have an opportunity to be heard. Removal shall be had only upon a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the entire Editorial Board.

3. Resignation. When a decision of removal becomes evident, the Editorial Board and Advisory Board shall consider the wisdom of disposing of the matter through a request of resignation.

M. Reservation of Powers

The Journal reserves authority over the composition and operations of the Advisory Board. This authority expressly includes the right to alter the structure and composition of the Advisory Board at any time.

ARTICLE XVII. AWARDS

The Journal shall present the following awards in conformance with the purposes and procedures contained herein.

A. Outstanding Subcitors

Each semester the Journal shall recognize Outstanding Subcitors for the quality and diligence of their work. Each Article and Notes Editor shall select one subcitor from his or her article as an Outstanding Subcitor. These subcitors shall be recognized at the end of the semester in which they served through public notification and recognition at the General Meeting.

B. Outstanding Article and Notes Editors

Each semester the Journal shall recognize Outstanding Article and Notes Editors for the quality and diligence of their work.

Each Executive Editor shall consult with the Editor in Chief and select one Article and Notes Editor as an Outstanding Article and Notes Editor. These Article and Notes Editors shall be recognized at the end of the semester in which they served through public notification and recognition at the General Meeting.

C. Subcitor of the Year

Each year the Journal shall recognize one Subcitor of the Year for their outstanding contribution to the editing process.

A selection committee consisting of the Executive Editors and all available Article and Notes Editors shall select one Subcitor of the Year. Each recipient of the Outstanding Subcitor award shall be a nominee. The Subcitor of the Year shall be recognized in the following volume of the Journal and shall receive a commemorative award at the spring Meeting.

D. Article and Notes Editor of the Year

Each year the Journal shall recognize one Article and Notes Editor of the Year for their outstanding contribution to the editing process.

The Executive Board shall select an Article and Notes Editor of the Year. Each recipient of the Outstanding Article and Notes Editor award shall be a nominee. The Article and Notes Editor of the Year shall be recognized in the following volume of the Journal and shall receive a commemorative award at the spring Meeting.

E. Donna R. Christie Service Award

Each year the Journal shall recognize one recipient of the Donna R. Christie Service Award for their outstanding contribution to the Journal.

Each member of the Executive Board shall nominate at least one Journal member. The list of nominees generated by the Executive Board shall consist of no less than two names. The list of nominees shall be compiled no less than three weeks before the spring Meeting, and shall be distributed to the general membership at the spring Meeting. The general membership will vote on the nominees at the spring Meeting. The Administrative Editor (if not nominated) shall tabulate the votes. If the Administrative Editor is among the nominees, another member of the Executive Board who has not been nominated will tabulate the votes. The recipient of the award shall be announced at the annual banquet.

The recipient of the Donna R. Christie Service Award shall be recognized in the following volume of the Journal and shall receive a commemorative award at the annual banquet.

F. Any other awards that the Editor in Chief deems warranted based on outstanding work and/or service provided to the journal by said member.

ARTICLE XVIII. FINANCES

A. Membership Dues

The Journal does not require dues as a condition of membership. Notwithstanding that, no university student may be denied membership due to inability to pay dues. If a member is seeking active voting membership status and is not able to pay dues, if any are instituted, then other arrangements will be made.

ARTICLE XIX. PUBLICATIONS

A. Approval

The Editor-in-Chief must approve all publications, shirts, flyers, etc. that use SGA allocated funds prior to duplication or distribution.

B. Compliance

All advertisements of the organization must comply with the University Posting Policy. (<http://posting.fsu.edu/>).
