

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

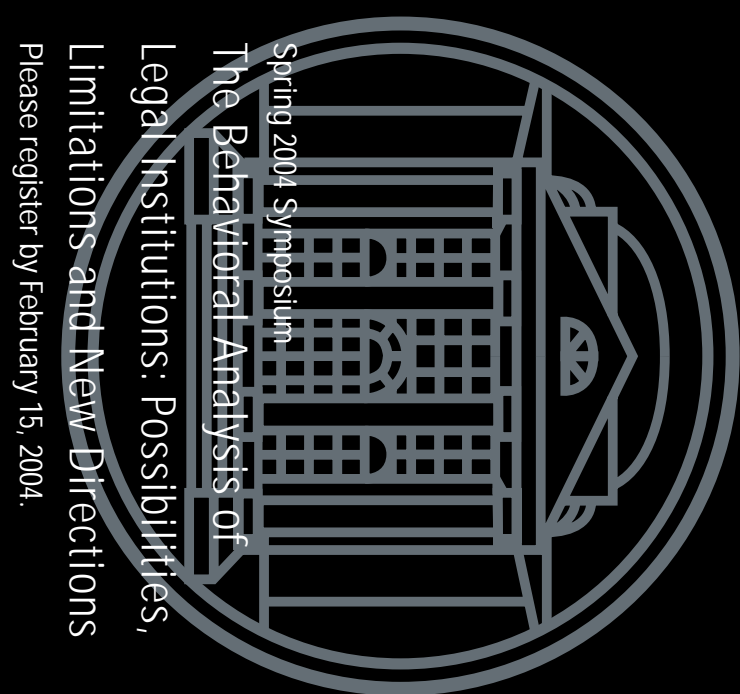

Philip E. Tetlock

Lorraine Tyson Mitchell Chair II in Leadership and Communication and Professor of Organizational Behavior

Chair of the Organizational Behavior and Industrial Relations Group

Haas School of Business, University of California, Berkeley

Dr. Tetlock is a leading behavioral decision theorist whose studies on judgment and decision-making behavior within organizations include seminal research on accountability systems and the rationality of judgment and choice. Among other honors, Dr. Tetlock received the Nevitt Sanford Award for Distinguished Professional Contributions to Political Psychology from the International Society of Political Psychology in 1997, the American Association for the Advancement of Science Prize for Behavioral Science Research in 1988, and the Distinguished Scientific Award for Early Career Contribution to Social Psychology from the American Psychological Association in 1986.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF LAW
TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA 32306-1601

Non-Profit
Organization
U.S. Postage
PAID
Tallahassee, Florida
Permit No. 55

Spring 2004 Symposium

March 26-27, 2004

The Behavioral Analysis of Legal Institutions: Possibilities, Limitations and New Directions

The Behavioral Analysis of Legal Institutions: Possibilities, Limitations and New Directions

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Legal scholars increasingly analyze legal phenomena from a behavioral perspective, relying on findings from psychology, behavioral economics, and political science to predict how the law will affect behavior and how legal actors will make judgments and decisions. Much of the first wave of law and behavioral science scholarship focused on individual behavior without taking into account the larger institutional setting in which the behavior occurs, while other early scholarship within this field exalted the decision-making competence of one legal institution over another without engaging in a comparative analysis of the respective institutions. This symposium will examine the unique influences of different legal institutions on behavior, and consider different methodological approaches to the empirical study of legal institutions.

Leading scholars in the fields of law and the behavioral sciences will participate in discussions organized around the judgments and decisions that take place within particular institutional settings of legal importance. Planned papers include presentations of original empirical research that extend our understanding of how legal institutions affect behavior and critical analyses of existing empirical research on the behavior of legal institutions.

The conference will provide an opportunity to take stock of where the behavioral study of legal institutions stands, to discuss why the legal system should pay greater, or perhaps less, attention to this research, and to consider future directions for this field of study. Papers and comments will be published in Volume 32 of the Florida State University Law Review.

The Behavioral Analysis of Legal Institutions: Possibilities, Limitations and New Directions

PARTICIPANTS AND PROGRAM SCHEDULE

FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 2004

PANEL ON JUDICIAL DECISION-MAKING 9:30 A.M.

Tracey George, Professor of Law, Northwestern University School of Law
 Chris Guthrie, Professor of Law, Vanderbilt University Law School
 Michael Heise, Professor of Law, Cornell Law School
 Adam Hirsch, David M. Hoffman Professor of Law, Florida State University College of Law
 Keith Sharfman, Associate Professor of Law, Rutgers School of Law-Newark
 Jeffrey Stake, Professor of Law and Charles L. Whistler Faculty Fellow, Indiana University-Bloomington School of Law

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION 11:30 A.M.

Philip E. Tetlock, Lorraine Tyson Mitchell Chair II in Leadership and Communication, Professor of Organizational Behavior, and Chair of the Organizational Behavior and Industrial Relations Group, Haas School of Business, University of California-Berkeley

PANEL ON JURY DECISION-MAKING 1:00 P.M.

Brian Bornstein, Associate Professor of Psychology and Law and Associate Director of Law-Psychology Program, University of Nebraska
 Robert MacCoun, Professor of Law and Public Policy, University of California-Berkeley
 Greg Mitchell, Assistant Professor of Law, Florida State University College of Law
 Jennifer Robbennolt, Associate Professor of Law, University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law

For additional information about the symposium, please visit the symposium website at www.law.fsu.edu.

PANEL ON ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION-MAKING 3:30 P.M.

Jeffrey Rachlinski, Professor of Law, Cornell Law School
 Jim Rossi, Harry M. Walborsky Professor of Law, Florida State University College of Law
 J.B. Ruhl, Matthews & Hawkins Professor of Law, Florida State University College of Law
 Mark Seidenfeld, Patricia A. Dore Professor of Administrative Law, Florida State University College of Law

SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 2004

PANEL ON CORPORATE AND COMMERCIAL DECISION-MAKING 9:30 A.M.

Larry Garvin, Associate Professor of Law, Ohio State University Moritz College of Law
 Russell Korobkin, Professor of Law, UCLA School of Law
 Kim Krawiec, Professor of Law, University of North Carolina School of Law
 Donald Langevoort, Thomas Aquinas Reynolds Professor of Law, Georgetown University Law Center
 Tim Malloy, Professor of Law and Co-Director, Frank G. Wells Environmental Law Clinic, UCLA School of Law
 Troy Paredes, Associate Professor of Law, Washington University School of Law
 Lynn Stout, Professor of Law, UCLA School of Law

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF LAW

The 2004 Symposium continues the Florida State University College of Law's commitment to furthering scholarly debate on important legal issues. Proceedings from other recent symposia may be found in the Florida State University Law Review:

"Genes and Disability: Defining Health and the Goals of Medicine," (Vol. 30, Issue 2)

"The Law of Presidential Elections: Issues in the Wake of Florida 2000," (Vol. 29, Issue 2)

"Regulatory Theory and Administrative Law," (Vol. 28, Issue 1)

For information on the Florida State University College of Law's faculty workshops, please visit: <http://www.law.fsu.edu/faculty/speakers.php>

Registration Information

You may register online at www.law.fsu.edu or by mail.

Name _____

Title _____

Organization _____

Address _____

City/State/Zip _____

Phone Number _____

Fax _____

E-mail Address _____

Attending for Florida CLE Credit? Yes No

Registration Fee: $25 (Includes lunch on March 26.)

Please make check payable to: The FSU College of Law.

Please mail registration form and fee to the following address by February 15, 2004:

Stephanie Williams, Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs
 Florida State University College of Law
 425 W. Jefferson Street
 Tallahassee, FL 32306-1601

For additional information about the symposium, please visit the symposium website at www.law.fsu.edu, or contact Professor Gregory Mitchell at gmitchel@law.fsu.edu.

Please check here if you have a disability that requires special attention or services. To ensure availability of appropriate accommodations, attach a general description of your needs. We will contact you for further coordination.