

The Florida State University College of Law Research Workshops

Spring 2010

Treatises

Tues., January 19; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Find out how to locate the treatises that will best serve your research using library's online catalog, print bibliographies, IndexMaster, World Cat, and other electronic databases. Questions? Ask Pat Bingham-Harper pbingham@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Florida Administrative Law

Tues., January 26; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Track proposed state administrative rules in the Florida Administrative Weekly (FAW) to their organization and codification in the Florida Administrative Code (FAC). Questions? Ask Trisha Simonds tsimonds@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Humanitarian Law Research

Tues., February 2; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Humanitarian law applies to situations of armed conflict. Learn how to locate applicable treaties, UN documents, international cases, and US legal and military materials. Questions? Ask Margaret Clark mclark@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Interdisciplinary Resources in Environmental Law

Tues., February 9; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

This presentation focuses on some of the pitfalls of interdisciplinary research and reviews good interdisciplinary research tools such as Metalib. Questions? Ask Jon Lutz jlutz@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Insurance Law Research

Tues., February 16; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Learn how to research the state/federal insurance industry laws, regulations in all areas of state and federal insurance programs; Property and Casualty, Life, Commercial and how these are impacted by federal disaster/specialty programs. Questions? Ask Marin Dell mdell@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Psychology Type Theory, The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator and Learning Negotiation

Tues., February 23; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Myers-Briggs psychological types suggest that people use different behavioral approaches in the process of exchanging information and negotiating an agreement. Understanding the Myers-Briggs Types Indicators help negotiators to not only be aware of their negotiating strengths but also their weaknesses. Questions? Ask Jon Lutz jlutz@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

International Legal Research in a Nutshell

Tues., March 2; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

In today's globalized environment an understanding of how to research international legal materials is essential. This workshop reviews the sources of law and the electronic tools used to locate them. Questions? Ask Margaret Clark mclark@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Google Wave

Thurs., March 4; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Google Wave is a new tool for communication and collaboration on the web. Learn how to navigate and participate in this new communication environment. Questions? Ask Jon Lutz jlutz@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Cost-Effective Legal Research

Tues., March 16; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

An enormous amount of legal primary sources are available for free. Learn how to locate the documents you need from high-quality Internet sites and save your employer money. Questions? Ask Elizabeth Farrell efarrell@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

FALR and DOAH: Demystifying Florida Administrative Rulings

Tues., March 23; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Finding administrative rulings will never be simple, but this workshop should make the process easier. Questions? Ask Mary McCormick mmccormi@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.

Florida Legislative History

Tues., March 30; 12:30pm – 1:15pm; Room L306 (Copy to my Google Calendar)

Learn how to locate important documents associated with the state's legislative process. Questions? Ask Marin Dell mdell@law.fsu.edu. To register, click here.